

HISTORY OF WARREN PARK EAGLES, TORONTO

Nestled in a valley along the Humber River, began a community named after John “Josh” Warren. Mr. Warren served as a Trustee for the York Township Board of Education starting in 1926. The community consisted of a small circle of homes and much farmland. In the early 1950’s came progress — new homes. The birth of Warren Park Minor Sports Association in 1955 consisted of baseball, basketball, volleyball and hockey teams. At the top of the hill in Lambton Park, the community built an outdoor rink for hockey. Through the evolution of house league to competitive hockey, Warren Park became known all over the City of Toronto in the M.T.H.L. As the city expanded and the M.T.H.L. organization became the G.T.H.L., so did Warren Park Hockey evolved into a highly competitive and separate entity as the Warren Park Eagles. The 2005/2006 season celebrates 50 years and an all encompassing name: TORONTO EAGLES.
